

Welcome to The Legacy Cast, HERE'S THE RULES! (Lighten up! More like what we strive for...)

- 1. Let your spirit enjoy the conversation! This is an open, safe space to express your heart and share your story! These videos create incredible moments of fun, passion, and healing when people just plan to come in and "chat". Know that showing you in the best light is our goal. We don't need to stay on any specific topic, just enjoy riding the wave of the conversation and let it go wherever it goes.
- 2. This is a CENSORED place where foul language will be bleeped, edited, or removed depending on context because we desire a higher standard above the FCC. A Christ-like standard that we will fail at, but mistakes are ok! People like to see you are human and capable of making mistakes as well. We just do a little 'spit-shine' on it before making it public.
- 3. We will have a conservative Christian viewpoint.* All walks of life are welcome here on the podcast, but that does not mean everyone will be a good fit for this show. We are not here to be PREACHY or "Shove our faith down your throat" BUT we are not afraid to share our faith gently, respectfully, and in a professional manner (There is a time and place for it). This podcast is here to share someone's heart, whatever their heart is invested in, and will always be a gateway for Christians to share their faith should they choose to! All opinions are welcome, but...
- 4. This is not a place to debate. This will be a place to bring people together, even if they are from different viewpoints. While we may discuss politics, religion, and opinions, if it becomes heated it won't be welcome on the show. We are here to bring joy to a dark world, to bring meaning, purpose, laughter, and share legacies.
- 5. We are not politically correct! Humor of most sorts will absolutely be welcome. If you attend a comedian's show, you accept their content whatever it may be, offensive or not you bought the ticket and entered the show. That will be the same for this podcast. If you can take a joke, you'll fit right in. But we will laugh about everything, joke about each other, and enjoy many things that make many people cringe. It will be welcome here in balance, and respect, as long as we try to "keep it clean".
- 6. We don't care if we offend our listeners or each other. This will be a safe space where people will be able to speak freely, but offence will not be accepted here. If you find yourself easily offended, this isn't the show for you. We will not let cancel culture take over what we believe or enjoy due to their offence of our content. Stand strong when the trolls try to fight back, take a higher road and don't let them win.
- 7. This is not a place to sell yourself or your products. This will be a place to share your spirit and let others become interested in you and your products/services. Share your heart, and it will sell your product. Count on Tim to give you a chance to mention what you do/believe. It will make this podcast more meaningful for everyone.
- 8. You will be taken at face-value for the words you say. We are here to make meaningful legacies and we will take you at your word that the things you say on this podcast and the stories you tell are true (or exaggerated for entertainment purposes). But in every relationship, there are two stories, we will accept yours till proven otherwise. So live and speak in a way that you can be proud of, and you will be welcome here.

If you feel your spirit is uneasy after reading these, please know this is simply what we strive for, now forget most of it and just plan to come and have a good time! Everything can be edited, nothing is live, and our greatest desire is for you to feel at peace and forget the camera and microphone are there while you chat with Tim!

We believe in Jesus Christ of the Bible, and that there is only one way to Heaven, through Jesus Christ, and not through our own works. We believe that all sin is equal in God's eyes. Everyone is equally guilty and deserving of eternal death but forgiven and welcomed into Heaven by God's grace.
